

AN ATTENDEE'S ULTIMATE Checklist

Second Street

A FEW OF OUR FAVORITE THINGS

- Attend a silly, off-the-wall event. Think Austin Hot Sauce Festival, Keep Austin Weird Fest & 5K, and Eeyore's Birthday Party.
- Boutique-hop along Second Street.
- Browse South Congress Avenue's funky antique, vintage, costume and candy shops.
- Catch live music at Antone's, The Continental Club, The Mohawk, Elephant Room and Stubb's.
- Check out the engaging exhibits at the LBJ Presidential Library.
- Golf one of the many area championship courses.
- Hike Mount Bonnell.
- Hop around Sixth Street after dark and let the music spilling out into the street pull you inside.

- Indulge in breakfast tacos, Tex-Mex, barbecue and food trucks and enjoy as many rooftop and patio margaritas as possible.
- Look up in awe at the domed Texas State Capitol.
- Paddle board or kayak Lady Bird Lake.
- Picnic, fly a kite or attend an event at Zilker Park.
- Sample as much queso – spicy melted cheese goodness – as possible. (Don't miss: The Bob Armstrong at Matt's Famous El Rancho.)
- See a concert at Austin City Limits Live at the Moody Theater.
- See a movie with dinner at the Alamo Drafthouse.
- Sip your way around the Texas Wine Trail.

- Stop to take in the beauty at Lady Bird Johnson Wildflower Center.
- Swim in underground-spring-fed Barton Springs Pool.
- Tour an underground cavern filled with stalactites and stalagmites at the Cave Without a Name in Boerne.
- Try unique flavors like avocado or white ginger amaretto at Amy's Ice Creams.
- Two-step at the Broken Spoke.
- Visit the flagship Whole Foods store, located in the Market District.
- Wander around the Cathedral of Junk.
- Watch the Congress Avenue Bridge bats – the world's largest urban bat colony – emerge at sunset (April thru November).

“I'm huge fan of Austin Detours Live Music Crawl! Three iconic Austin music venues, three music genres, all in three hours. It's the tour that makes you feel like a local!”

Kristen Parker | Director of Eastern Regional Sales

“When there are no dinner plans on the calendar, I put on my walking shoes and hit the Lady Bird Lake Hike and Bike Trail headed toward Lamar. Nip into Whole Foods for a no frills, replenishing meal after a few back-to-back “travel meals.” It's a great way to enjoy an Austin original and squeeze in some exercise too!”

Sarah McCabe | Director of Central Regional Sales

“Austin has the best local shopping. From the Second Street District to South Congress Avenue, there are a variety of boutiques and eclectic shopping that you won't find anywhere else. Check out my personal favorite Parts & Labour – a fabulous locally-owned store with a little bit of something for everyone.”
